MATTERS ARISING Derek talked about the parking by the shops and thinks we don't have a problem here. The other side of North Approach is wide enough to accommodate parking bays but would be very costly. He has personally been monitoring the parking and thinks it is relatively empty a lot of the time and cannot see a problem with volume/capacity of cars parking there. He also says that cutting parking bays into the grass verge into the tree area is not a possibility. John suggested it is kept in mind and monitored.

Chemist Girish is to take ownership of the service road, he is to put pressure on the one stop shop and also the co op. Taxis would park to the rear if the service road was repaired.
